Both men and women may enter the examination.

Oakville Is Winner

The Oakville ball team defeated the Harvey's Gate nine Saturday afternoon in a nine-inning game by the score of 8 to 3. The game was played on the Oakville diamond. The game was somewhat one-sided but interesting. Cumby did the pitching for Oakville and was in fine form; Harris was at the receiving end and played good ball. The Oakvillians pounded Franklin and Drinkard hard all through the game.

Changes In Hunting Laws

The revisors of the code changed the open season on deer from September 1st to December 1st, to from October 1st to February 1st. The season on deer this year, therefore, will begin October 1st instead of September 1st. The warning notices are the result of reports reaching the Department of Game and Inland Fisheries that a number of deer hunters, ignorant of the changes in the law, were preparing to start hunting this animal as of September 1st. The changes made in the code do not, it was pointed cut by the Department, affect those counties which have special laws protecting deer.

The Department also called attention to the new law prescribing an open season on squirrels from August 15th to February 1st, except that property owners may kill squirrels on their own land at any time. There are a number of local acts governing the shooting of squirrels.

Pamphlets containing the game, fish and dog laws of the State, may be obtained free of charge from the Department of Game and Inland Fisheries, Richmond, Va.

Increased Railroad Rates Will Boost Auto Business

The opinion is openly expressed by a number of people that the increase in railroad passenger travel is going to boost the automobile business throughout the United States. One gentleman has said that in the futnre when it is incumbent upon him to make a trip to Richmond with his family he will use his automobile and save money by the transaction. The advance in passenger rates will not be felt in short trips very materially, but only when several hundred miles are to be traveled. It needs to be said, however, that the increase soon to be added to passenger fares is small in comparison to the increase made by the government when the railroads were taken over. Previous to government control a mileage book, good for 1,000 miles, could be purchased for $20. With one stroke of the pen this was raised to $30 plus the war tax. According to the ruling of the Interstate Commerce Commission, the new rates will remain in effect until the year 1922. At that time the rates will remain in effect or be reduced. This depends on business conditions in the country. In the event that there is anything like a return to normal conditions, we all may look for a reduction in the cost of passenger travel.—Review.

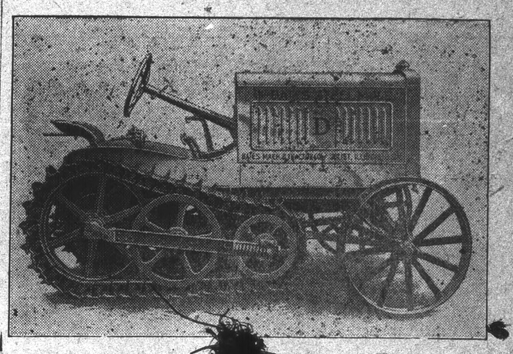
Every Inch of the Bates Steel Mule is Thoroughbred


The United States government, by means of the Department of Agriculture, has been looking into the tractor question, and its bulletins clearly prove that the satisfied tractor owner—men who say that the tractor has paid—are men who own the BETTER CLASS of tractors. The successful man has learned years ago that he can't get something for nothing. No one can. The reason the BATES STEEL MULE costs more is that it is worth more. Skilled factory procedure, quantity production and the most modern Machinery enables us to save money at every turn, yet the BATES STEEL MULE cost slightly more in the beginning to build but considerably less in the long run to own. It's just another case where a seemingly higher priced article is ar cheapest to own when you come to actually USE it.
The Bates thoroughbred quality comes not from mere claims, but from what's put into it. Every part that goes to make up the BATES STEEL Mule is put there by long field experience. There is'nt a part that is'nt time-tried and tested. There is'nt a part that experience has'nt dictated the shape and size of; and in it all there is'nt one superfluous part, nor one part that isn't capable of standing up under twice the strain it gets in actual use. There are things experience and practice have discarded. The BATES comes to you as a fulfillment of your desire for a tractor that will endure. Price is what we pay for a thing. Value is what we get out of it. Consider your tractor from what you will get out of it, consider how many working days you have when the ground is wet, consider the operations where you can not afford to pack your seed bed, and consider how constantly and economically they must be performed even in rush times, you will then see why the BATES STEEL MULE is the biggest value offerd in any tractor on the American market today.
